Should the provisions of the contract/estimate signed by Client contradict those in the T&C herein, the provisions of the contract/estimate shall prevail. The General Terms and Conditions of Purchase ("Terms of Purchase" or "TOP") offered by Client are expressly excluded from the estimate/contract/T&C. ARTICLE 25. LIABILITY: The Client undertakes to implement all sanitary rules that may be required by the Hotel, the government or local authorities. No claim, request for a price reduction or request for payment can be made by the Client. The Hotels operated under an Louvre Hotels Group banner are operated by companies that are legally distinct from Louvre Hotels and that aren't controlled by Louvre Hotels. As such, they are solely responsible for the obligations provided for under these T&C and the contract/estimate and issue the invoice related to the services provided within the contractual timeframe. Under the general rules of civil liability, the Hotel and/or Client will be liable for the failure to perform their respective obligations under this contract/estimate, if the failure is caused by the respective Party's fault. In no event may the Hotel be held liable for any indirect or unforeseeable damages resulting from the performance of its obligations under these Terms. By express agreement between the Parties, "indirect damages" means an operating loss, an act by a third party, by Client or any of its partners, and any financial or commercial damages, a loss of data, an order or guests. In the event of fraud, particularly in the event of intentional misrepresentation made at the time of the reservation, the Hotel reserves the right to immediately terminate the contract/estimate without damages or penalties. The exercise of the option to terminate will not release the breaching Party from its contractual obligations until the effective date of termination and without prejudice to any action the non-breaching Party may bring. The Hotel will keep any amounts paid and any amounts due will be payable.

27.1/ the French doctrine of "unforeseeable circumstances": The Parties intend to benefit from their rights under Article 1195 of the Civil Code, within the limits authorised by French law. An "unforeseeable circumstance" means an event which could not have been foreseen and/or could not have been reasonably anticipated when the contract was contemplated, is beyond the reasonable control of a Party and frustrates the contract and/or renders performance excessively onerous. Notwithstanding the occurrence of an unforeseen event as defined above, the Parties are required to perform their respective obligations as defined in these Terms and agree to negotiate new terms and conditions within a reasonable time to take reasonable account of the consequences of the event. If these new terms are not accepted, the Parties may terminate the contract on the date and under the conditions determined between the Parties. Failing agreement within a reasonable time, the competent court may, at the request of either Party, revise the contract.

27.2/ Force majeure: The obligations under these Terms will not apply or will be suspended if their performance becomes impossible due to an event of force majeure. The Parties agree that, for the purposes of these Terms, force majeure means an event beyond the control of the debtor which could not have been reasonably anticipated when the contract/estimate was entered into, whose effects cannot be prevented and which prevents the debtor from performing its obligations and recognized as such by French jurisdictions and/or French government. The Parties will make best efforts to prevent or mitigate the effects of the non-performance due to an event of force majeure.

If it wishes to take away part of the food not consumed after the banquet it undertakes to comply with the laws and regulations in force in terms of food and beverage, their transportation, hygiene regulations and in general all requirements relating to Catering so that the Hotel is always held harmless in this respect. Client undertakes to comply with all rules in force relating to hygiene and the cold chain and to ensure that the premises are left properly clean. It should be noted that the Hotel may not be held liable for the food brought in by Client. This clause discharges the responsibility of the Hotel.

ARTICLE 29. After this period, the service and invoicing will be deemed accepted and may not be subsequently disputed by Client. All disputes and complaints can only be taken into account if they are made in writing and sent to the Hotel within a maximum of seven (7) days after the end of the Event. After having referred the complaint to customer service or the Hotel for an amicable resolution and in the event of an unfavourable response or lack of response within sixty (60) days of making the complaint, any of the Participants may bring the complaint before a mediator. For Louvre Hotels Group franchise hotels and managed hotels who have opted in, this mediator is the Tourism and Travel Mediator.
